

Anne Palmer

Flute

Anne is a well-established member of the Kingston musical community, and performs regularly in both large and small ensembles. She has held the second flute/piccolo position with the Kingston Symphony for nearly 20 years. She is also a member of The Classically Hip Woodwind Trio, and the flute and classical guitar duo, Espresso. She has a private teaching studio and is an instructor with the Limestone Board of Education. Anne has served as coordinator for the annual Band Bash massed bands workshop for Kingston and area elementary schools, and she is on faculty at the Kingston Summer Music School and the Kingston Suzuki Institute. Anne is the founder of the Flutissimo community flute choir, which has been performing annually for the past 7 years. In addition to performing and teaching, Anne has written many music arrangements for flute choirs having piccolo, flute, alto flute and bass flute parts. When she's not teaching or performing, Anne enjoys spending time outdoors hiking, cycling and swimming.
